

GARRETT FULLER

November 19, 2017

In January 2014, when I was only a Freshman in high school, I dreamed of owning my own website and graphic design business after designing my own personal websites since the third grade. On April 11, 2014, through the help and mentoring of local and not-so-local people, I entered the #BOOM pitch competition. There, I won fourth place. That marked the beginning of Garrett's Websites. On January 18, 2016, Garrett's Websites officially ceased operations although I continued to do freelance website and graphic design work.

I am writing this to inform everyone that I will no longer perform freelance website and graphic design work. I will continue to support websites/graphic design projects that I have completed, and am currently looking for a replacement to recommend to ongoing clients.

This decision is not one that I have taken lightly, but this time it is for real. I will not be doing web/graphic design work outside of personal jobs and supporting projects that I have done in the past. I feel that this decision will allow me to focus on a myriad of other responsibilities that I have to tend to daily.

I'd like to thank everyone for their continued support. My goal is to make this transition as easy and painless as possible for everyone.

Sincerely,
